

Engaging with our Advisory group

How to seek advice on strategic issues affecting Aboriginal people and communities.

The Aboriginal Employment Advisory Committee is a consultative group of Aboriginal public sector employees.

The Committee provides an Aboriginal perspective to the NSW public sector on strategic issues and assists in finding solutions for implementation challenges.

The Committee advises on a range of Aboriginal workforce management issues including employment, recruitment, career development and strategic policy issues.

To seek advice from the Committee, please contact us.