Applications for the 2024 NSW Government HR Mentoring Program closed on Tuesday, 23 April.

This is a structured 6-month program that uplifts the strategic capability of sector HR professionals.

The program pairs HR professionals seeking guidance and support with more experienced HR leaders who are willing to commit time and energy to the professional development of future HR Leaders. Pairs will be matched based on HR capability development needs and mentor expertise.

Benefits of participating

You will expand your public sector network and increase your awareness of the HR programs, initiatives and practices in other agencies and departments.

As a mentee, you will get to:

- consider and define your career pathway
- identify capability strengths and gaps and personalise your HR capability development in your chosen area/s
- receive support and guidance to achieve your learning and career development objectives
- build your network across the sector

- learn from and share information across agencies.

As a mentor, you will get to:

- gain a wider understanding of opportunities and challenges experienced across the HR profession
- further develop your mentoring, coaching and facilitation skills
- contribute to the development of the HR profession.

Who can apply?

To apply as a mentee, you must be:

1. currently working as an NSW Government HR professional in a non-executive role up to clerk grade 11/12 (or equivalent)
2. be interested in developing your HR capabilities
3. be willing and able to commit time and energy to the program and actively participating in monthly mentoring discussions.

To apply as a mentor, you must be:

1. currently working as a NSW Government HR professional in roles at Grade 9/10 to Senior Executive (or equivalent)
2. willing to commit time and energy to support the development of a more junior HR professional.

There is no cost to participants or agencies, the program is funded by the PSC.
